APA STYLE: REFERENCES and IN-TEXT CITATIONS
Health Sciences Cheat Sheet

Website (organization as author):
Organization Name. (Year). Title of web page. Retrieved from link

In-text citation examples: (American Heart Association, 2015). or “According to the American Heart Association (2015)…”

News article (online):
Author, A. A. (Year, Month Day). Title of article. Title of Publication. Retrieved from link

In-text citation examples: (Cha, 2015). or “As explained by Cha in The Washington Post (2015)…”

News article from a database (no author):
Title of article. (Year, Month Day). Title of Publication. Retrieved from Database.

Fewer people are getting diabetes, but the epidemic isn’t over. (2011, December 1). All Things Considered. Retrieved from Opposing Viewpoints in Context.

In-text citation examples: (“Fewer people,” 2011). or “According to a story on All Things Considered (2011)…”

Journal article from a database:

In-text citation examples: (Laliberte, 2016). or “In an article for Prevention, Laliberte states… (2016).”

No author? Move the title of the web page or article to the front of the citation.
Two or more authors? Use the & symbol. Example: Author, A., Author, B., & Author, C.
No year? Use (n.d.) instead of (year).

Have more questions or want some help one-on-one?
Go to www.harrison.edu/library
Visit Meg in the Library or email her at Meg.Galasso@Harrison.edu to set up an appointment